Yes, it was an inspiring movie.

I am prepared to article in a small town.

I have to complete nine months of articles and the bar admission course.

I am one of those women who gave up their careers for hubby and children.

Now I am soon turning 58.

I believe I have lots to offer. I taught business law at College level, summarized court judgments, volunteered on Boards, Councils, Committees. I volunteered with the Consumers' Association for years.

But does anyone want me at my age?
