General Counsel Vancouver

Our client, Global Relay, is a global market leader in the area of electronic messaging compliance, archiving and e-discovery for the financial services industry. From its offices in New York, Vancouver, Singapore and London, Global Relay's 160+ employees service over 14,000 financial firms in 90 countries, including small to large broker-dealers, hedge funds, investment advisors and public companies, as well as 22 of the world's top 25 banks, and two public exchanges.

Founded in 1999, Global Relay's success is based on its commitment to providing the best balance of service, support, quality and affordability to its customers. This has been achieved and maintained through a combination of its high performance systems and the business, technical and legal expertise of its customer service team. In 2011, Global Relay's President was recognized by Profit magazine as the #1 female entrepreneur in Canada.

In response to the company's continued growth, Global Relay is now seeking to add a General Counsel to its team based in its Vancouver head office. Reporting directly to the President, this is a customer-facing role requiring excellent negotiation and communication skills, backed by the ability to document and draft complex contractual and ancillary documentation with many of the company's key, international clients.

As the preferred candidate, you have a broad background in general corporate commercial matters, with experience negotiating, drafting, and reviewing agreements involving sophisticated, international parties. You also have prior experience dealing with securities and technology matters, and are a team player who thrives in an intense, fast-paced environment and are able to effectively use your technical legal skills in a business environment with minimal supervision.

For the right candidate, this is an opportunity to play a leadership role in building the company's growing legal team while acting as a trusted advisor to the company's executive.

The role offers an attractive, top of market compensation package and a rare opportunity to play a key role in building a dynamic, expanding and international organization headquartered in Vancouver.
