Senior Counsel – Employment

HSBC Bank Canada is the seventh largest bank in Canada, offering a full range of products and services via both personal and commercial financial services segments. At the core of our success is a willingness to see things from different perspectives. Throughout the world, our ability to appreciate different points of view has given us success wherever we are. With over 125 million customers and 8000 offices in over 85 countries and territories, we truly are “the world’s local bank.”

The Vancouver head office is seeking a Senior Counsel – Employment for its dynamic Canadian Legal Department. This position is responsible for providing legal advice, guidance and support to the Human Resources Department, including management of employment litigation for HSBC Bank Canada and its subsidiaries. The successful candidate will provide legal advice on employment matters, including advice with respect to pensions, compensation & benefits, resourcing & recruitment, restructuring, privacy issues, severance matters and diversity initiatives. This role will also be responsible for drafting Human Resources policy and managing employment related litigation. This role reports to the Deputy General Counsel. The ideal candidate will have a minimum of 6 years of experience in Canadian employment matters and employment litigation. Experience with both federal and provincial jurisdictions and familiarity with the Canadian financial industry would be considered an asset.

The position requires a self-motivated individual who is able to work effectively under pressure in a fast-paced business environment and to prioritize multiple tasks and handle a variety of projects simultaneously without dedicated administrative support. HSBC Bank Canada promotes teamwork in a collegial work environment. If you are looking for an opportunity to use your legal skills in a dynamic business environment, we invite you to submit your resume, or direct inquiries, to Siobhan Rea at srea@zsa.ca quoting job reference #BT19587.
